Opening Keynote Address

Surface: THE FINAL TOUCH

Presented by: Ed McLaren, DDS, MDC

CDT/RG: 1 hour of Scientific Credit • State of Florida: 1 hour of General Credit

This presentation will cover the final touches of contour, texture, surface colorants, and polish that can take an average looking porcelain, or monolithic glass ceramic and focus on the new generation glass ceramic, Zirconia Reinforced Lithium Silicate “Suprinity”. Dr. McLaren will share techniques for monolithic Cubic Zirconia restoration and create an exceptionally esthetic result. These steps are critical to the success of dental restorations, especially now since more monolithic restorations are becoming the norm. This presentation will also cover the esthetics of the individual tooth, i.e. the individual form and color characteristics of teeth, introduce a new ZIRCONIA REINFORCED LITHIUM DISILICATE pressable material called “AMBRIA” and a new highly esthetic porcelain called “LUMIX”.

Ed McLaren, DDS, MDC

Dr. McLaren is a Prosthodontist and Master Dental Ceramist. He is a retired Professor from both UCLA and UAB School of Dentistry. He is the founder and first director of the Post Graduate Esthetic Dentistry at the UCLA School of Dentistry and was the director of the UCLA Center for Esthetic Dentistry, a full time didactic and clinical program for graduate dentists. Dr. McLaren is also the founder and director of the UCLA / LACC Master Dental Ceramist program.

Dr. McLaren is currently the CEO of ArtOral America, a private teaching institute based in Park City, Utah. He maintains a private practice limited to prosthodontics and esthetic dentistry in which he does all of his own ceramics. He is actively involved in many areas of prosthodontic and materials research and has authored or co-authored over 90 articles. Dr. McLaren is performing ongoing clinical research on various restorative systems. He has presented numerous lectures, hands-on clinics and postgraduate courses on ceramics and esthetics across the nation and internationally. He recently published a book on his ceramic techniques and features dental photographic art entitled, “The Art of Passion: Ceramics, Teeth, Faces, and Places.”

Implant Potpourri - Implants in the Aesthetic Zone and Full Arch Rehabilitation

by Alexander Wünsche, CDT, ZT

During this course, Wünsche will explain the importance of treatment planning for complex implant reconstructions. Complex can be anything from the single implant in the anterior area up to full mouth rehabilitations.

With the digital treatment approach, we are now able to plan the case with the patient’s smile in mind. The utilization of smile design software in combination with implant planning software and a dynamic CAD-CAM system make the planning and design stage extremely predictable.

In the second part of this course, Wünsche will describe the importance of the correct material choice and what kind of zirconia (or even polymer) is appropriate for the specific case.

Confronting the Challenge and Embracing the Emerging Opportunities for Your Dental Laboratory

by Joseph M. Saburn, Esq.

This course will highlight challenges and present a roadmap that owners of dental laboratories should consider as they try to navigate possible business disruptions. Some believe that the trend to consolidation is the result of instability in the market and uncertainty surrounding the future. Actually, consolidation seeks to optimize business efficiency and financial performance and seeks to better position the lab to successfully compete. Grabbing market share, cutting costs, boosting productivity and improving investment returns through economies of scale all play a major role in the evolution of your business. There is no doubt that the world has changed in a big way for dental laboratories. The lab industry was historically stable, very profitable and predictable. That is no longer the case, but there is also great opportunity. Mr. Saburn will review the evolution of industry consolidation and discuss opportunities presented to enhance your business.
